HELEN CLEVELAND

MARY BUSICK

Miss Helen Cleveland is serving as O.H.S. School Secretary for the fourth year. She keeps track of a great variety of school funds, is the guardian of student records, the conveyor of messages, and the dispenser of sympathy and aspirin to many an upset person.

Mrs. Mary Busick serves as grade school secretary in the morning and is the "keeper" of high school assemblies after lunch.

Mrs. Laverne Green and Mrs. Hazel Sanders preside over the high school kitchen and cafeteria. (We vote for their cherry cobbler!)

MOTTO: WE BUILD THE LADDER BY WHICH WE CLIMB.

Seniors treasure much from their years of study, not the least of which is a belief in and an abiding love for their country and a feeling of responsibility as citizens. The poet Coffin has expressed it thus:

What do these verses add up to?
American! It depends on you.

You will have treasures that no thief
Can take, if you lay up belief.
Believe in common carpenters, plowers,
Believe in folklore which is ours.
It is good myth, our history:
Washington planted a high tree,
Uncle Tom set the Negroes free,
Lincoln learned by firelight,
Mormons saw God day and night,
The pioneers were builders rather
Than wasters.

CLASS FLOWER
Pink Rose
COLORS
Blue and Silver

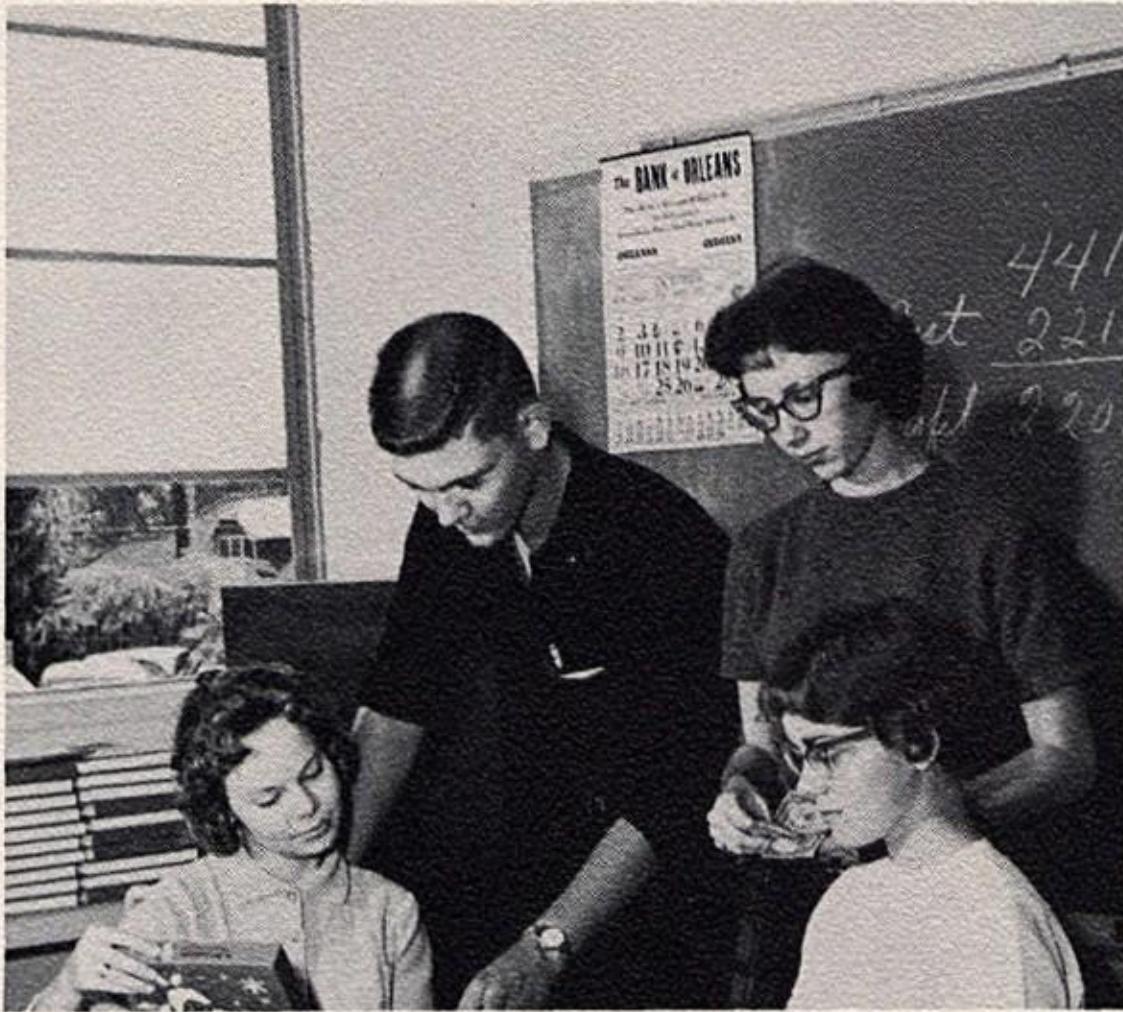

Our land was promises where soil slept,
America was promises--promises kept.
The wealth we took out of the earth
Brought colleges, statesmen, schools to birth,
It was turned back to the people
In medicine, books, and slender steeple.
Thrift was not capitalism or crime,
It was the golden stitch in time.
No nation has come so far so fast.

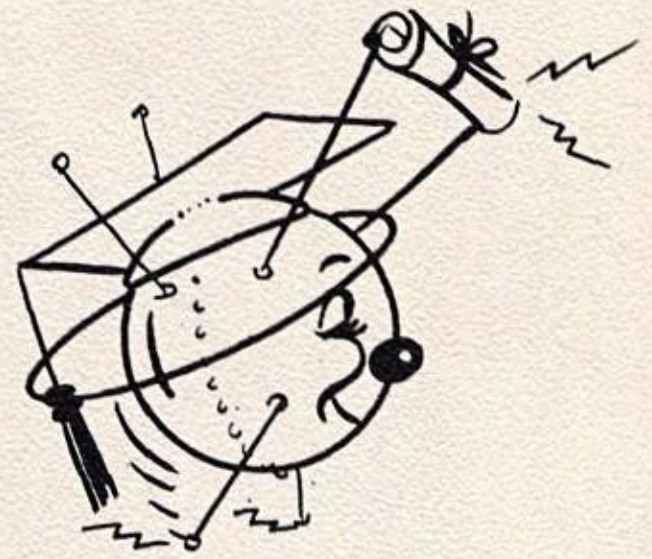

Americans! --I give your book to you!

An abstract geometric composition on a light beige background. In the upper left, a large solid black diamond is partially obscured by two smaller white diamonds with black outlines. To the right of these is a small solid grey diamond. In the lower half, a large black diamond is centered, surrounded by a thick, textured grey border. Several thin black lines intersect the composition: one line passes through the top-left corner of the large black diamond at the bottom; another line passes through the bottom-left corner of the large black diamond at the bottom; and a third line passes through the bottom-left corner of the large black diamond at the bottom.

The clubs under his supervision were those of Orleans Bedford, and Jeffersonville.

JUDY FIELDS, Chapter Sweetheart

This year's F.F.A. sweetheart, Judy Fields, can match chores with the farmer lads since she is a farm lass, herself. However, she is really more useful to the chapter as a secretary than she is as a milkmaid.

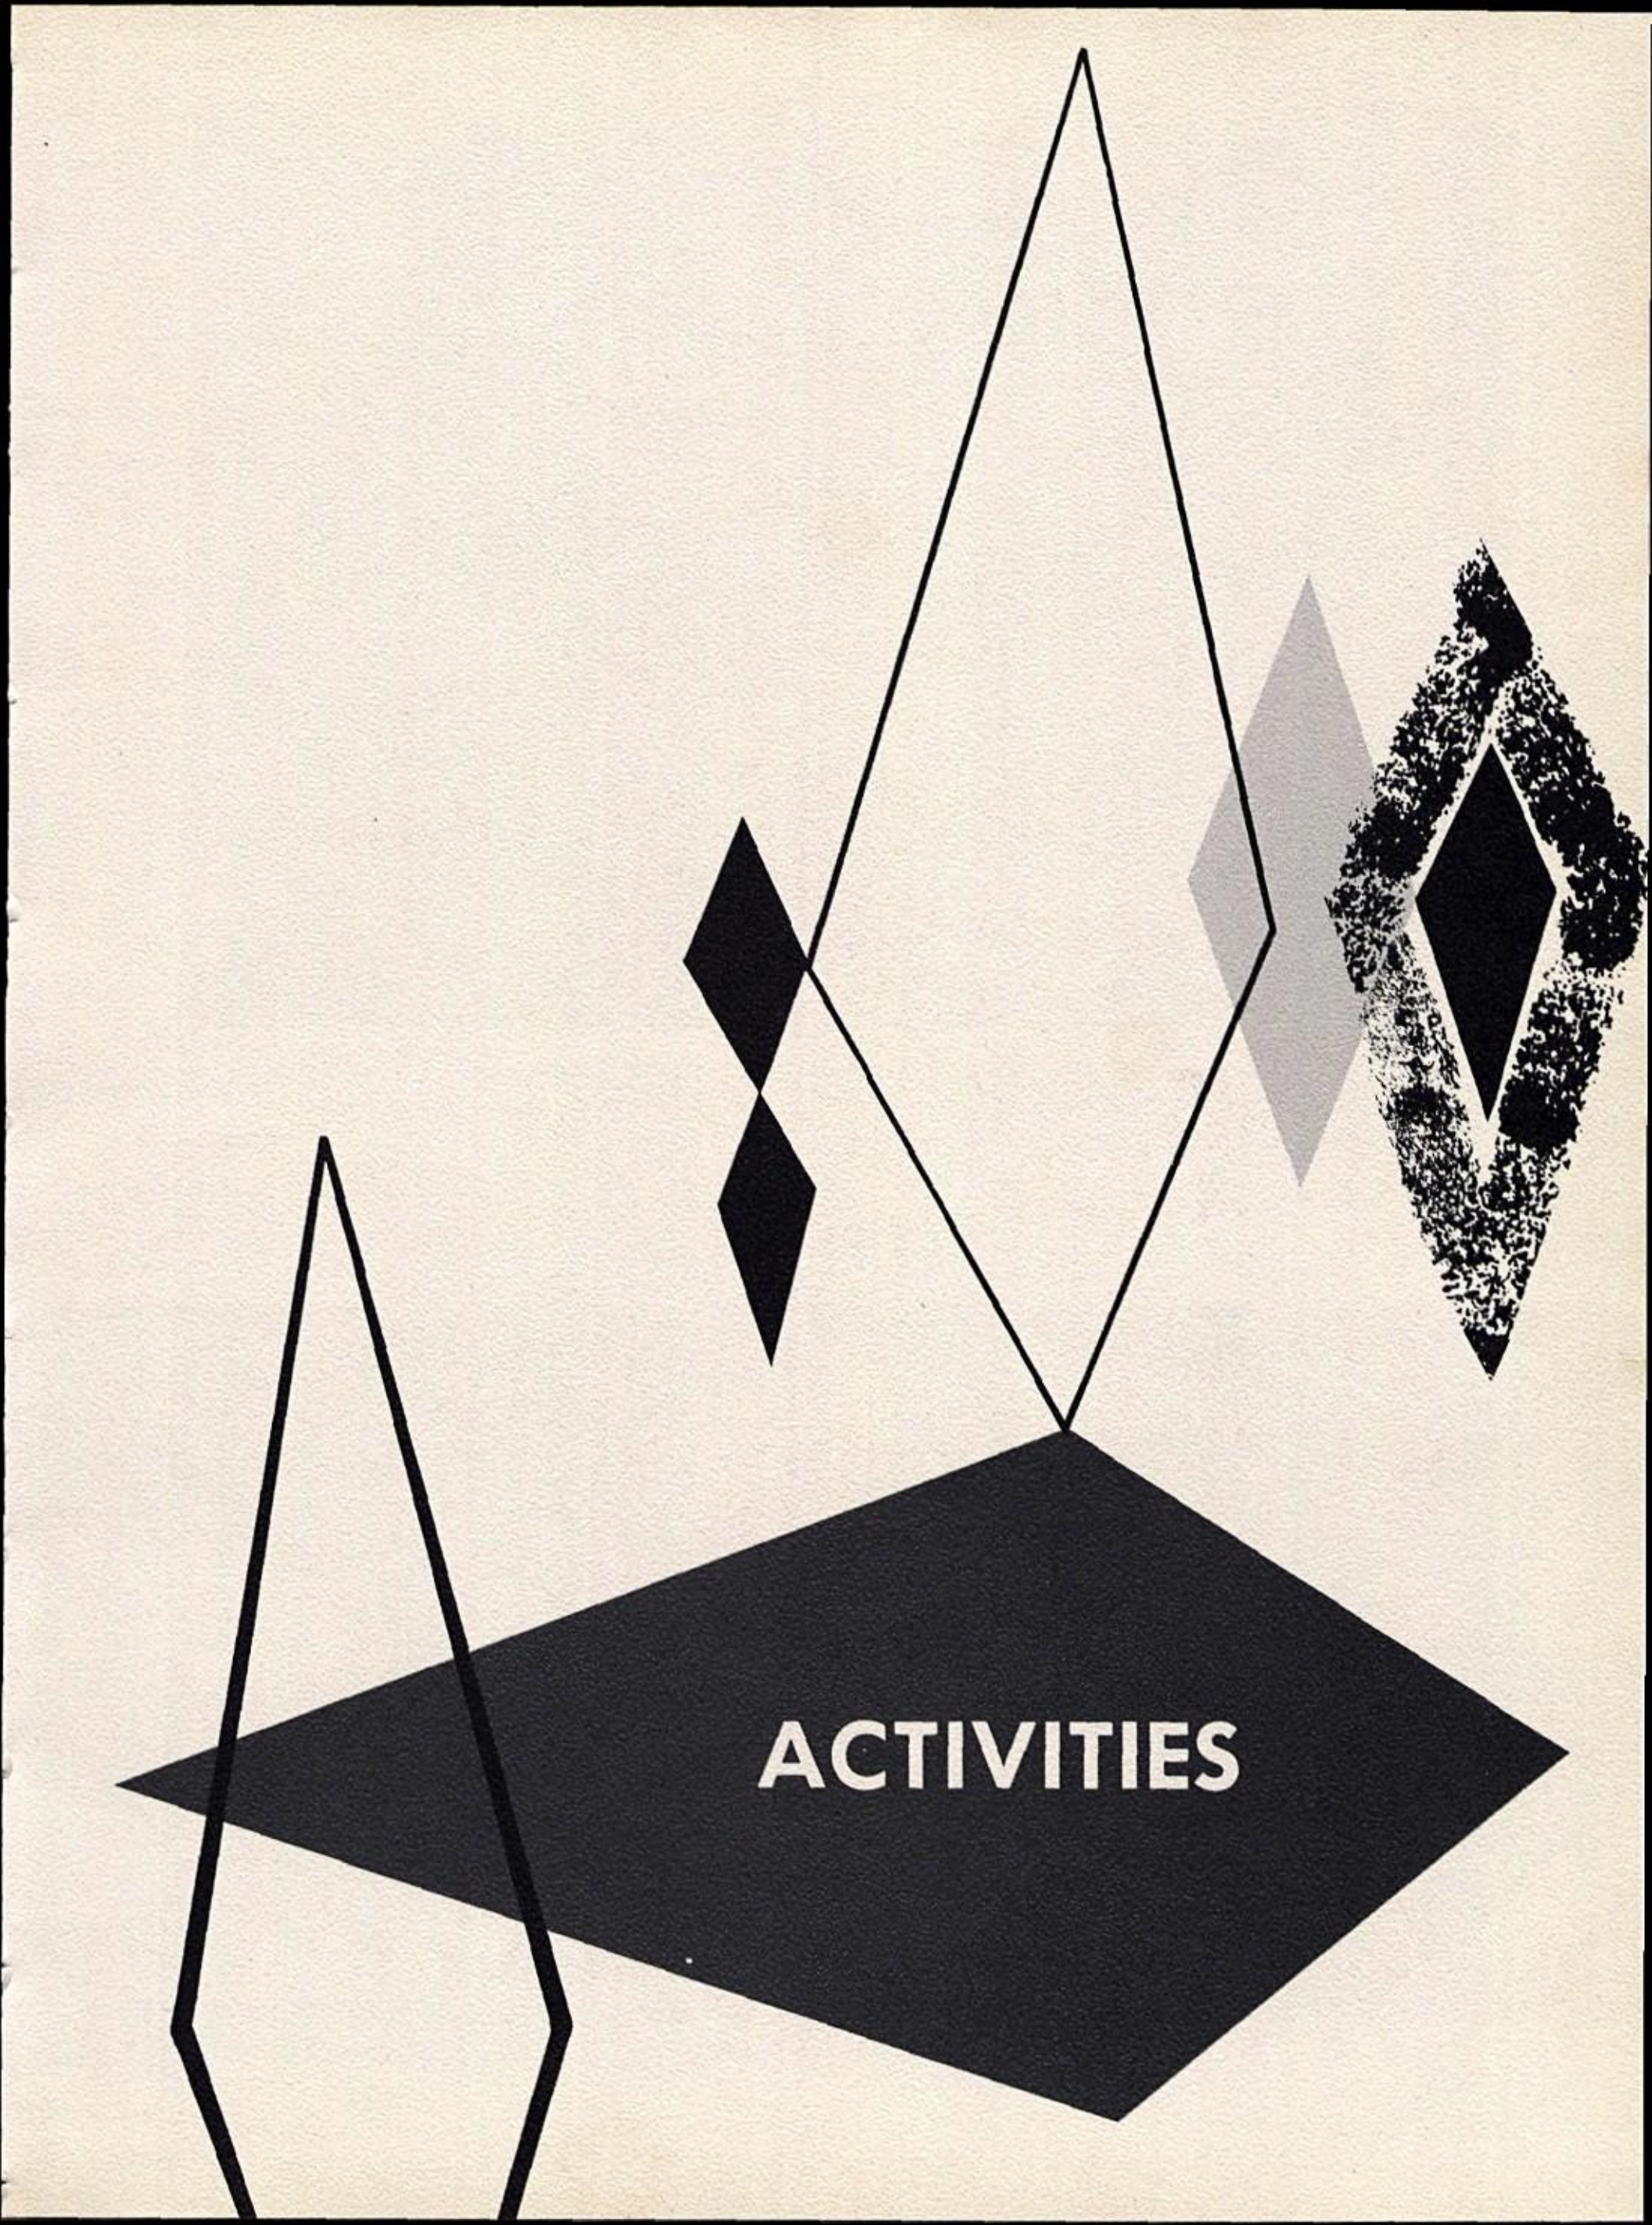

PEP CLUB

The newly organized Pep Club of O.H.S. has added new pep, variety, and enthusiasm to all the basketball games and pep sessions this year.

The Pep Club made a sparkling showing when they displayed their new red gloves and block letters at the tourney. These, along with the white blouses and loud cheers, made the Orleans cheering section one of the best in a long time!

Officers for the 1960-61 school year were: President - Kay Patton, Vice-President - Juanita Middleton, Secretary - Judy Fields, Treasurer - Martha Carroll. Their sponsor was Miss Fredina Crowe.

An abstract geometric design featuring several diamond shapes and lines. A large, solid black diamond is at the bottom, tilted to the right. Above it, a large, hollow diamond outline is also tilted. To the left of the large hollow diamond, two smaller solid black diamonds are stacked vertically. To the right, a light gray diamond is partially visible behind the large hollow one. Further right, a black diamond is surrounded by a dense, textured, stippled pattern. A line from the bottom-left corner of the page enters a large, hollow diamond shape that extends towards the top of the page.

O.H.S.

O.H.S. band uniforms--bright red color, snazzy spats, feathery plumes, spanking white gloves--make the O.H.S. band look as modern as next year's spaceship.

Under Mr. Magner's direction, the group has presented musical and colorful half-time shows at the home basketball games.

CHOIR

Orleans students love to sing, apparently, for over a third of the high school student body belongs to the choir.

NOTES AND SCALES

The Music Department under the direction of Mr. Magner has had a busy season. The outstanding choir activity was the Christmas Cantata presented on December 11. Besides performing at ball games and other school functions, the band marched in Indianapolis in the 500 Parade, and participated in both Purdue and I. U. band days. Music students also entered various music contests.

Rex Magner, music director, gives Judy Fields, choir pianist, some suggestions.

VARSITY YELL LEADERS

YELL LEADERS - CLOCKWISE: Helen Chastain, Bill Slaughter, Judy Allen, Janet Rosenbaum.

Mr. Dan Bullington joined the O.H.S. faculty this year as head basketball coach. He faced a stiff assignment here since there were only two men left from last year's season. However, Mr. Bullington is well qualified for his difficult task. He is a graduate of Hanover College, coached five years at Manilla High School where he always had a winning season, and was an assistant freshman basketball coach while he attended Hanover.

An abstract geometric composition on a cream-colored background. The design features several black and grey shapes. At the top, a small black triangle points downwards. Below it, a larger, dark grey triangle points upwards. To the left of the grey triangle is a black-outlined pentagon. Further left, a smaller, light grey-outlined diamond is visible. A large, solid black triangle occupies the lower right portion of the page, with the word 'ADVERTISEMENTS' printed in white, bold, sans-serif capital letters across its center. This large black triangle is surrounded by a thick, textured grey border that follows its outline. Several black lines of varying lengths and angles are scattered across the page, some intersecting the other shapes. The overall style is minimalist and modern, reminiscent of mid-century abstract art.
